Build Your Business & Grow Your Wealth

“Like all the medical related professions, running an optometry business is subject to strict regulations and licensing. Insurance costs like professional indemnity can be huge not to mention the cost of optometry and ophthalmology equipment. Starting a business is a bit like a game of chess and we can help you make the right opening moves including your choice of business structure, accounting software and the development of your marketing plans.”

Christopher Tolevsky - Principal

Just like your optometry business, our business is all about vision and focus. Over the years Christopher Tolevsky and his team of accountants have mentored a number of ophthalmic and dispensing opticians through the various stages of their business life cycle, from start up right through to sale of their business. In fact, a number of the medical related professions including optometrists have become a micro niche within our accounting firm.

Our focus is to provide clients with the highest quality accounting, tax and business coaching services at affordable rates. We recognise the importance of compliance but we really take a pro-active approach to helping you grow your revenues, profits and personal wealth using tax effective strategies. Our client brief demands we minimise the cost of compliance and it all starts with the right accounting software. We begin by matching your optometry business needs (bookkeeping, payroll, invoicing, stock etc.) with your level of accounting skill and train you (or your staff) to use the software. This prevents 'computerised shoebox' records and reduces basic compliance costs.

"We are certainly not a compliance factory that just focuses on tax returns. As business advisors and profit builders we offer our optometrist clients strategies to grow their business and their personal wealth. If you're a dispensing or ophthalmic optician looking to start, buy or grow your business contact us today on (03) 9326 1244."
